ACTION: The Director's Cut

Welcome to the fifth newsletter of the ACTION project!

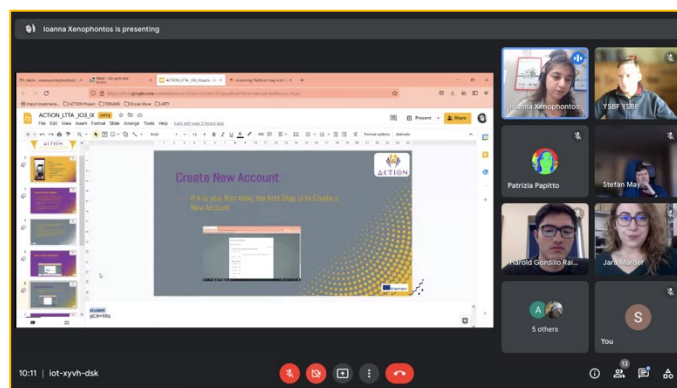

ACTION is a two-year project that is ending this month! Over the past 30-months, project partners from France, Estonia, Germany, Cyprus, Ireland and Czech Republic have been collaborating to provide:

- Training for youth workers in digital media production.
- A toolkit of activities to use with young people to produce short movies on their smartphones.
- An online learning portal which provides access to all training materials developed.

ACTION Short Film Festivals

Part of our work with young people over the last 30 months has been to support 40 young people, collaborating in teams of 5, to come together and to script, record and produce 8 short films that raise awareness of issues that affect them as young European citizens. These movies will shortly be available for you to watch online through our project YouTube channel.

To provide our budding film-makers with the opportunity to premiere their films, Short Film Festivals have been held in each partner country over the past few weeks. These events have been planned and hosted with support from our young film-makers in each country. The aim of the events has been to showcase the talent that has been unlocked through the ACTION project, and to celebrate the creativity of young people in our communities by showing the videos and offering them a platform to promote their work!

The Final Act: Pilot Training goes Online!

Youth workers and trainers from the ACTION consortium met online through Zoom to participate in a transnational training activity. At this transnational training event, youth workers from each country completed some modules from the In-service Training Programme, and were also introduced to all 4 outputs of the ACTION project, namely:

- The in-service training programme for front-line youth workers;
- The toolkit of inquiry-based and embedded-learning resources;
- The online learning portal;
- And the ACTION policy paper.

Following on from this virtual transnational event, all youth workers who attended will share the results of the ACTION project with other youth workers in their organisations and networks. At this event, we also invited all youth workers to sign-up to our online learning platform. If you would like to access the full range of materials developed by the ACTION partners, please visit: <https://actionyouth.eu/en/e-learning> and register today!
